

School Program Cost Estimated $1½ Million

Two Proposals Are Submitted By Architects

Board Hires 6 New Teachers; Opens Bids on Equipment

The proposed building and improvement program for the Sedalia school system would require a bond issue of nearly $1½ million, according to estimates submitted to the Board of Education Tuesday evening by Dan R. Sandford and Sons, architectural firm of Kansas City. The proposed bond issue is expected to be voted on sometime in September of this year.

Two estimates were submitted by the architects. One estimate included a new building to replace Jefferson School and the other included remodeling of the present Jefferson School building. The estimate for remodeling is approximately $200,000 less.

The Board of Education also voted to hire six new teachers, opened bids for the annual purchase of school supplies and equipment and air-conditioning equipment for the superintendent's office, called for bids on hose and plumbing for a sprinkler system, and received a report on the settling of the building at Washington School. All bids were referred to committees for study.

Four vacancies in the elementary schools and two in Smith-Cotton High School would be filled by the six teachers approved. Mrs. Jane Johnson was transferred from Horace Mann School to Smith-Cotton as an English teacher.

The new teachers approved were John R. Hays Jr., elementary; Mrs. Barbara Green, elementary; Mrs. Patty Wagenknecht, elementary; Mrs. Virginia Farris, elementary; Miss Ruth Wolfrum, home economics; and Miss Patsy Eloise Kettinger, commerce. Two vacancies still exist in elementary schools. One of these vacancies was created by the resignation of Miss Mary Jo Case, which was approved.

Under the new proposed building program the physical education program will be expanded.

MoPac Battle On Directors Continues

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A lively proxy battle continued today over the election of five directors to the board of the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Ballot inspectors were expected to report the outcome late today. Management and an insurgent group headed by T. C. Davis of New York clashed yesterday at the first stockholders meeting since the railroad emerged from 23 years of receivership in March of 1956.

There was a report Paul J. Neff would retire as president immediately after the stockholders meeting and be succeeded by Russell L. Dearmont, vice-president and general counsel.

Dearmont, who is 66 and served as attorney for the railroad's trustees in bankruptcy, told newsmen:

"I hope it's true. I can neither confirm or deny the report."

Davis is a former chairman of the board and one of four candidates backed by the insurgent group.

The strength of the Davis forces was bolstered when Robert R. Young, head of the Allegheny Corp., an investing firm, announced he would vote 19,900 shares of Class B stock with the insurgents.

"We've won the fight," Davis told newsmen. "If we elect one director, we've won."

Holders of about 1,800,000 shares of Class A and 36,000 shares of Class B could cast five votes per share in the election and all of a shareholders votes could be cast for one director.

Management nominated a slate of five. The board is made up of 15 members serving staggered three-year terms.

Mrs. Wedel took for her subject at the evening meeting, "The Dimensions of Our Unity."

The significance of Christians working together is the unity it has brought among denominations and of the people of the world, Mrs. Wedel said. The world has shrunk, she pointed out, and it takes only hours now to go any place. It is terrible, she said, the

Arab Leaders Windup Talks With Warning

BAGHDAD (AP) — King Faisal of Iraq and King Saud of Saudi Arabia reportedly are winding up their talks here with a pledge to coordinate their resistance to communism and a warning that no Arab state should meddle in the affairs of its Arab neighbors.

Observers saw this as a pointed hint to Syria and Egypt, who have both been accused of fomenting trouble in Iraq and Jordan.

They considered it a triumph for pro-Western Premier Nuri Said of Iraq and another setback for Egyptian President Nasser's desire to lead the Arab world.

Iraq has been a major target of Egyptian and Syrian propaganda because of its adherence to the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact and its refusal to follow Nasser's lead.

Saud previously held aloof from close ties with Iraq, whose Hashemite royal family has been his family's blood enemy for years.

The groundwork for the hatchet-burying was laid in February when Saud and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah of Iraq visited Washington at same time and met there.

Jordan's King Hussein reportedly had the backing of Saud when he risked his throne last month by throwing out the leftist, pro-Egyptian government of Suleiman Nabulsi. Hussein accused Egypt and Syria of aiding his enemies in the crisis.

June Dairy Night Plans Shaping Up

Will Feature Judging And Milking Contests, Cut Rate Ice Cream

Plans are rapidly shaping up for the June Dairy Night promotion to be held the evening of Saturday, June 1. It will be at Liberty Park and will last from 7 to 10 p.m.

The program will include a cow judging contest, a cow milking contest and a cut-rate ice cream social.

This ice cream social will serve regular portions of ice cream and cake at cut rates. This will be made possible by the manufacturers who are supplying the ice cream at reduced prices and the dairy farmers of the county whose wives are furnishing the cakes.

A short program will be held between the cow judging and cow milking contests. Presented at that time will be the 1956 State Dairy Queen, Miss Carolyn Crighton, and the Manager of the American Dairy Association in Missouri, Loren Gafke.

Paul Selken, a Smithton dairyman, is chairman of June-Dairy Month for the second straight year. Paul is being assisted by Assistant Dairy Committee Chairman Earl Wood and 12 members of the county dairy committee.

Also assisting is Cecil Monsees, chairman of the dairy section of the farm marketing committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, and a five-man committee.

A public address system is being loaned by Cecil's and two radio announcers, Chris Rau, KSIS, and Jimmy Glenn, sports announcer of KDRD, will be masters of ceremony.

The cow judging contest committee members are: Robert Brauer, chairman, Dean Knight, Paul Neitzert, Robert Hoehns and Owen Fox. Everyone attending will be urged to judge the two classes of cows which will be led slowly around the inside of a ring with the crowd on the outside. Separate prizes will be awarded to winners over and under 21 years of age.

Chamber Has Board Meeting On Tuesday

Hears of Dairy Day Plans, Gets Reports From All Divisions

Feeling that people should know more about what the Chamber of Commerce is doing Jess Brown, director of membership, announced at a Chamber board meeting Thursday that a coffee and doughnut session will be held in the Palm Room of Bothwell Hotel, at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 22. At this time Jack Faber, executive manager, will tell of the things being done by the various divisions and the many services and accomplishments of the Chamber.

Dairy Day, which will be held the evening of June 1, was discussed by Keith Yount, farm marketing director, who stated that the highlight will be the milking contest between presidents of the civic clubs. Dairy Day will be held at Liberty Park and there will be an ice cream social.

Cecil Owen, conventions and tourist director, stated that his chairman, Kurt Weaver, was doing a wonderful job in trying to get conventions and meetings to Sedalia. This work, of course, will not bring results much this year but will next year and the year after, he explained. Owen went on to say that everybody that goes to a convention or a meeting should extend an invitation for the group to come to Sedalia for its next meeting.

William Gibson, director of state and national affairs, announced that Kenzie Miller will have charge of the parade for opening of the State Fair and that the ham breakfast is also being planned.

Mrs. Everett White, director of civic activities, reported that the "Yard of the Month" contest is again being held this year and that the clean-up campaign, under her division, had been very successful.

Harry Naugel, director of the retail merchants division, said that his division had been making preparations for Armed Forces Day. Several merchants had sponsored free shows for the kiddies, plans had been made for Dairy Day.

Teacher's Retirement Raised

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill authorizing training centers for mentally retarded children in Missouri was signed by Gov. James T. Blair today.

It is one of a series of measures opening a new field of care and training for the handicapped. The bills were developed by a special committee headed by Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley.

Governor Signs Measure For Handicapped Training

The new law directs the State Department of Education to establish training centers around the state within the next three years. Several counties may join in such projects. The object is to help trainable mentally retarded children under 21 learn to use their capabilities the best they can.

In general, trainable children will be regarded as those with an intelligence quotient between 25 and 48.

Also signed today were bills to: Extend the life of the State Civil Defense Agency another two years.

Make it unnecessary for a warehouse to post a sign when the goods are subject to a factor's lien.

Let county courts buy merchandise worth $100 without bids. The present limit is $25.

Permit school boards to join the Missouri School Boards Assn. and pay membership dues.

Require automobile owners in cities over 75,000 to carry their city tax stickers on their cars.

Yesterday a bill increasing Missouri teachers' retirement system benefits around 50 per cent was signed into law.

It goes into effect at once. The increased benefits will be available for teachers retiring this year but they do not cover teachers already in retirement.

The law improves disability and survivors' benefits and sets contributions on a maximum base of $8,400 a year instead of $4,800.

House Passes Bill to Allow County Bonds

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill to let Missouri counties help solve the nursing home problem by building and equipping county homes now is on its way to the governor's desk.

There was no argument as the bill whipped through the House on a 109-0 vote.

It would let county courts issue general obligation or revenue bonds, with the approval of the voters, to finance construction and equipment of the homes. Thereafter they would be leased to a non-profit organization for operation.

The counties could also accept federal aid in financing construction of homes.

It was offered as a partial answer to the state's problem of caring for its aged citizens, brought sharply into the spotlight Feb. 17 in the Warrenton nursing home fire that killed 72 residents.

Otherwise both houses of Legislature worked on generally routine bills, the House busy with Senate bills, and the Senate considering House bills.

The Senate passed a bill that would let the state use the old Dalton Vocational School for Negroes for some other purpose or sell it. The school, in Charitan County, has not been in use the past two years.

The House killed two bills in the first two hours of today's session. One would have made it mandatory for judges to retire at the age of 70, instead of 75. The other would have given the director of the state division of workmen's compensation a raise in pay, from $6,600 a year to $10,000.

Benson Sees Continued High Cost For Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today that under present legislation he foresees continued high costs for government farm aid, with little progress toward solution of agriculture's problem of overproduction.

Calling for revision of this legislation, Benson said that "as we move out of surplus No. 1, governing legislation sets the stage for surplus No. 2."

In a statement prepared for the Senate Agriculture Committee, Benson said reduction in present surpluses will mean that the "price escalators," in the administration-sponsored flexible price support law will soon operate to stimulate production and create new costly surpluses.

Accidental A-Blast Could Cost Billions

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y. — An accidental atomic blast in the United States might cost "billions of dollars for property damage alone," Arthur W. Murphy, New York insurance specialist, said today.

Personal damages would be even more difficult to calculate, he said.

These facts, Murphy said, constitute a major roadblock to the development of atomic energy by American private industry.

He outlined the problem of providing insurance for atomic installations in a prepared speech for the Inter-American Symposium on Nuclear Energy at Brookhaven National Laboratory.

Murphy said the probability of a "catastrophic accident is low, but reported that insurance analysts have made estimates of the possible cost.

"These estimates vary from hundreds of millions of dollars up to billions of dollars for property damage alone," he said.

Claims for damages from personal injury would require even more complicated calculations. Injuries, might not appear until years after the accident. There would be difficulty in ascribing them to a specific source of radiation, he said.

"The inability of private industry to secure adequate financial protection against the risk of unprecedented liability and its reluctance to proceed without such protection, threaten to frustrate a major national objective," he said.

In the effort to meet this problem, he said, three syndicates "comprising nearly all the insurance capacity of this country" have been formed to write insurance for atomic industry. They will provide 60 million dollars of liability coverage for each nuclear installation, he reported.

However, he said, action by the federal government also is needed.

Outlining legislation now before Congress, Murphy said the proposed laws stipulate that "the government would indemnify the licensee and all others in the amount of 500 million dollars against any liability on account of each nuclear incident."

Grandmother Receives Honors At Graduation

WILBURTON, Okla. — Mrs. John Lucas, a 46-year-old grandmother, was graduated with top honors from Wilburton High School last night.

Now she's going to college on a scholarship hoping to become a teacher.

Her daughter LaDawn witnessed the graduation ceremony. She won't graduate until next year.

Mrs. Lucas, three times a grandmother, won her cap and gown as covalentorian. She had a grade average of 7.3 out of a possible 8.

The wife of a miner, Mrs. Lucas said she always wanted to complete her high school education. "So, I decided to go back to school," she explained. She had quit school after the seventh grade.

"Everyone seems to like Mrs. Lucas and she fits in well here," said the Wilburton High School principal.

Mrs. Lucas said she wants to become a schoolteacher. She will attend Eastern A&M College here. Her husband said he had no objections.

Scout Mistakes Wash For Clothing Salvage

VENTURA, Calif. — When Mrs. Edythe Lowe finished her washing she took it from the dryer and set it out for pickup by an ironing service.

A Boy Scout spotted it on the front porch. He picked it up and took it downtown by mistake. The scouts were having a clothing salvage drive. He presumed Mrs. Lowe was cooperating.

When her laundry didn't come back she called the ironing service. They said they had called but found no laundry on the porch.

Mrs. Lowe ran an advertisement in the Ventura Star-Free Press. The scoutmaster read it, found the laundry and returned it personally to Mrs. Lowe.

Radar Report Loses To Truck Tachograph

OKLAHOMA CITY — A police radar report lost out to a trucker's tachograph in Traffic Court. Judge James Demopolis favored the tachograph record that showed truck driver Charles Ray Dyer, 20, was not speeding. A tachograph is a gadget attached to vehicles that records speed and time.

Demopolis said the radar check showed that Dyer was traveling 45 m.p.h. in a 30 m.p.h. zone could have been wrong and dismissed the speeding charge.

TV Star Gets Divorce

LOS ANGELES — Jack Webb, 36, star of the television show Dragnet, was granted a divorce decree yesterday after he testified his marriage to actress Dorothy Towne had been "extremely tenuous" and marked by three separations in the last two years.

He said the 26-year-old actress "seemed to want more social activity than my business could possibly afford."

The couple married Jan. 11, 1955, in Chicago.

Webb previously was married to actress-singer Julie London. She divorced him in 1953.

Actress' Children Get Change of Name

LOS ANGELES — The three children of actress Eleanor Parker have been converted from Friedlobs into Clemenses.

Susan, 9, Sharon, 7, and Richard, 4, appeared in Superior Court yesterday, where Judge Bayard Rhone granted a change of name.

They are Miss Parker's children by her late husband, producer Bert Friedlob. They wanted their last name changed to that of the mother's present husband, artist Paul Clemens.

At one point in the proceeding, Judge Rhone asked Susan: "Have you ever gone through bankruptcy?"

"Why, no," the bewildered child replied.

"Just a routine question we always ask in name change cases," the judge explained.

Violent Storms Hit in Midwest Parts of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudy and wet weather was reported in wide areas of the country today after a series of violent storms in sections of the Midwest. Tornadoes, severe thunderstorms and heavy rains struck areas in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa, but no deaths or serious injuries were reported.

Precipitation in the early morning was reported in most areas except the middle and lower Mississippi valleys and the Ohio Valley. However, only scattered showers hit the Southeast and Texas.

The low center which moved across the upper Great Lakes region yesterday, triggering the stormy weather, brought thunderstorms and showers in the upper Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms with hail and strong winds also struck areas in the plains states.

Locally heavy thunderstorms rumbled across areas in Pennsylvania, New York, New England and the Middle Atlantic Coast states.

Tornadoes skipped across areas near Grandville and Jamestown, Mich., about 20 miles southwest of Grand Rapids, last night. Earlier, a twister hit rural areas near Blooming Prairie, Minn., near Rochester.

United Church

is an outstanding demand for leaders and it is wonderful the things that are being accomplished by groups across the country, in community, state and national work. It is quality work being done by church women.

Depth, Mrs. Wedel explained, is the working together, learning to understand each other, the great ecumenical church movement which is the beginning of coming together. Already there are the United Churches of India, United Churches of Canada, the three Methodist groups which have come together, and many others. It is in the mission field, she said, because we cannot bring the world to God if we are not together. A Christian world, said Mrs. Wedel, is the only hope.

The assembly opened Monday with the board of managers meeting and the regular meeting opened Tuesday morning at 9:30 with Mrs. Patterson presiding over the business meeting. The Christian World Missions Luncheon was held at noon at the Federated Church, with Mrs. O. R. Osburn in charge.

The evening meeting which was held at the First Methodist Church, was preceded by a Christian Social Relations Banquet at the First Christian Church. Colorful bouquets of spring flowers centered the tables, on either side of which were white lighted candles in star holders. Favors were little plastic pins of homes, which is the theme of the May Day Banquet.

Mrs. Jack Herndon sang, "If I Could Tell You" and "Give Us

The meeting at the First Methodist Church was presided over by Mrs. Patterson, with words of welcome by the Rev. Elmer Hobbs, vice-president of the Sedalia Ministerial Alliance.

Scripture and prayer was by Mrs. Leonard Voss, and soloist was Mrs. A. H. Bratten. The offertory prayer was given by Mrs. John Williams, vice-president of the Missouri Council of Churches.

Benediction was by the Rev. Mr. Hobbs.

Wednesday morning opened with a coffee hour at the First Methodist Church, with meditation by Mrs. Leonard Voss. A business meeting followed and the Christian World Relations luncheon at the First Methodist Church with Mrs. Clarence Speer presiding, at noon followed by installation and communion.

General Emmis Sutherland served as general chairman for the assembly.

In her talk Tuesday morning at the opening meeting at the Fourth Methodist, Mrs. Wedel's subject was, "Our Vocation as Christian Women." She pointed out that we have all been called to be Christians. Then she asked, "What Is a Christian?" Some people will say behavior, others will say being active in church, but Mrs. Wedel insisted there was something more basic than either of these things.

Christianity she said, grows out of our relationship with God. Then she painted a word picture of God creating the universe and people.

We all know, said Mrs. Wedel, the joy of creation because we have all created things. God looked upon the world and thought it was beautiful, but there was something missing—creatures with whom He could have real relationship. She illustrated what she meant with children. We love them and enjoy them as babies, as children, but it is when they are grown and are equal as adults that they enrich our lives most, she said.

God made us free so that we could refuse him if we wanted to, she said, but we are never satisfied until we have a relationship with Him. Many people, very active church people, too, she said, do not really believe God exists. God has patience, she said, and we often get impatient because He does not take care of things quicker, but we should be grateful for His patience; we might not fare so well if He was impatient. He is the ruler of the universe, Mrs. Wedel said; trust Him. In time He will take care of communism, but we cannot sit back. He expects us to do something, too.

If we believe in God, it will show in our faces, the speaker told the group. We should be able to pick out a Christian by the look of love and peace on his face.

Then, Mrs. Wedel said, the second vocation is our relationship to ourselves. God made us just the way we are because he wanted us that way. When we have an inferiority complex, we are saying God made a mistake. The person with one talent God doesn't debase as much of as some one with many talents. God, she said, has a sense of justice and He does not compare one person with another. He merely wants to know what we do with what He has given us. Everything we have is a gift of God, she said. None of the saints were gifted people. They were ordinary people who completely surrendered their lives to God.

The third vocation, she said, is the relationship to one another. Mrs. Wedel pointed out that it is not always easy to love your neighbor. Some people are disagreeable, but if we make an effort to be extra sweet with those people, it pays. The power of loving, she said, is the most important thing in the world. Be a listener, whether it is to a child or an old person who might bore you. So few people live being a Christian 24 hours a day, and it isn't easy to be one. Mrs. Wedel expressed the thought that it was an important thing and something that everybody should work at, and when we let God be our guide we naturally find it easier and our lives become happier.

Billy Graham Begins 6-Week Appeal Crusade in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—To the strains of "Blessed Assurance," Billy Graham steps before the spotlights tonight to begin a six-week appeal to the conscience of New Yorkers.

His crusade, in active preparation for more than two years, opens at Madison Square Garden.

It will be the evangelist's first full-scale effort in the world's greatest city, with big stakes involved churchwise.

Nearly 60 per cent of the city's eight million people don't participate in any church or synagogue.

As in many Graham campaigns, the theme music before Graham takes the platform will be from the old hymn "Blessed Assurance," chorused by a choir of 1,500.

Loud-speakers have been installed outside the arena to pipe (Advertisement)

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

the service to any overflow crowd. The Garden seats 18,000.

In a brief ceremony last night, attended by ushers, choir members and other crusade personnel, Graham dedicated the arena to the service of God.

Graham, terming the crusade his most challenging yet, has expressed hopes it will bring a resurgence of religious dedication in the city, reviving faith and invigorating forces that influence the entire nation.

All through last night, marathon prayer meetings were held in numerous New York City churches and others elsewhere, asking divine guidance toward success for the crusade.

The Rev. Dr. Phillips Elliott, president of the Protestant Council of Manhattan, will give the invocation at the opening service, with the benediction by the Rev. John Wimbish, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

Graham will be presented by Roger Hall, vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York and chairman of the executive committee for the crusade.

The crusade is sponsored by the Protestant Council of New York, an interdenominational body.

Special singers for the meetings will include Cliff Barrows, of Greenville, S. C., song leader, and George Beverly Shea, soloist, of Western Springs, Ill., both veteran Graham team members.

The World Today

Background Made Talk Extraordinary

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's nationwide broadcast—both a defense of his record and an appeal for public support of it—contained nothing new. But it was made under extraordinary circumstances.

This was not a fighting talk. The only reason for making the speech was that Republicans and Democrats in Congress are whacking big chunks out of his budget. But he said not a word critical of Congress.

All he said—if summed up in one sentence—is what he has been saying since he offered his budget of almost 72 billion dollars to Congress earlier this year: that it is as tight as he can make it. He was in effect pleading for public pressure on Congress not to cut. This will be a switch if the public responds. Members of Congress, running around with axes, have been saying they are under tremendous public pressure to reduce spending.

Perhaps Eisenhower has already despaired of saving the nondefense parts of his budget, where cutting has already been voted. He put the most emphasis on the defense spending, where cutting is just getting under way.

But the President, who seems to shrink from even tiny conflict with the lawmakers, had the courage to warn his listeners not to expect much lower budgets in the future because of the continuing need for big spending on defense.

A number of things made the background of this talk extraordinary:

1. Ever since early in 1957, when he sent his budget to Congress, he could have made a slam-bang fight on the lawmakers to let his budget alone. The only pressure he appears to have put on them was in mild public statements.

He had a choice between such a personal struggle or trying to apply pressure through the oblique method of a public appeal. He chose the latter rather than have a personal quarrel with Congress.

2. Early statements by some of the men closest to him—members of his Cabinet or just below Cabinet level—suggesting cuts could be made spread confusion in and out of Congress on whether Eisenhower really wanted as much as he asked.

3. He decided to make his plea late—after the lawmakers have been in session five months and already have axed deeply into the budget. Perhaps he acted too late. He could have made this same plea months ago.

4. His own Republican leaders in Congress are talking of cuts far bigger than anything he wants. For example: Sen. Knowland of California, Republican Senate leader, is calling for reductions of at least three billion dollars. Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, wants a cut of at least $3,300,000.

But it was Rep. Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican House Campaign Committee, who over the weekend put the biggest twist yet on the President's problems.

The Milwaukee Journal quoted him as telling a Republican women's meeting in Wisconsin that the mistakes of government are the fault of "deadwood New Dealers frozen in the various offices."

They are the ones, he was quoted as saying, who are to blame for the budget "now being condemned on every side."

Either Simpson is wrong or someone is keeping this information from Eisenhower, who took full responsibility for the budget last night. He said it was made up "under my personal direction by men and women who believe deeply in economy and efficiency in government."

In Japan, O Shima Island is known as "Suicide Island" because hundreds of people have jumped into its volcano.

Japanese Court Gives Sentence to American

AOMORI, Japan (AP)—For the second time this week, a Japanese court in Aomori has given an American serviceman a stiff sentence. The Army is appealing both.

Roosevelt Ross, 22, Ocala, Fla., was convicted of setting fire to the Kentucky Tavern near Misawa March 6 after the bartender would not serve him. He was sentenced to 2½ years at hard labor.

Earlier this week the same court convicted Paul E. Bell, Beaufort, S.C., of assaulting a taxi driver and gave him five years.

Japanese courts try American personnel for offenses allegedly committed while off duty and away from their bases.

Cyriots Are Retried On Firearms Charge

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Five Greek Cypriots sentenced to death April 5 for firing at a security patrol were retried today on a new charge of possessing firearms. Each was sentenced to 10 years in jail.

The Cyprus Supreme Court quashed the death sentences May 2 and ordered a retrial, because evidence in English had not been interpreted into Greek.

The defendants pleaded guilty today to the weapons charge.

Gasoline Prices Drop 7 Cents in St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Gasoline prices plunged as much as seven cents a gallon here yesterday.

The gasoline war was precipitated, some independent dealers said, when one station operator sent out postcards offering two free gallons with every five gallon purchase.

Independents began cutting Monday night. Major oil companies dropped prices last night. Cuts generally were six cents per gallon.

Oregon to Cast Vote On Death Sentence

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Robert D. Holmes signed yesterday a measure putting the question of capital punishment up to Oregon's voters in the 1958 general election.

Present state law permits execution in the prison gas chamber for first-degree murder.

The measure, a proposed constitutional amendment, was approved by both houses of the Oregon Legislature earlier.

State Has Low Forest Fire Rate

JEFFERSON CITY — The veil of smoke that normally hangs over the Missouri Ozarks during the early spring months has been thin this year. According to State Forester George O. White, forest acreage lost to fire has been the lightest since the establishment of the Conservation Commission's Forestry Division in 1938.

Much of the credit for this fine record must be given to Mother Nature for supplying rain in generous amounts and keeping fire dangers to a minimum. However, alert fire-fighters of the Commission's Forestry Division have kept a constant vigil on days when timberlands were dry and have held wildfires to a minimum.

On the 7 1/4 million acres under intensive fire protection, only 1,003 fires have occurred to date with a total acreage lost of 10,789. Last year, Commission firefighters suppressed 1,903 fires that burned 72,024 acres of woodlands. Foresters hope they can establish a new record low in forest fire losses in Missouri.

State Forester George O. White had this word of caution however: "Fires will still burn and landowners who are doing some belated debris burning should exercise the same precautions they do in early spring. Otherwise, we could still have some serious loss due to woods fires out of control."

Fire losses to date by district are: Daniel Boone 36 fires 385 acres. Deer Run 48 fires 219 acres. Eminence 75 fires 613 acres. Gasconade 109 fires 422 acres. Lake Ozarks 273 fires 3,880 acres. Meramec 131 fires 844 acres. Neosho 107 fires 1,513 acres. Sam Baker 66 fires 1,364 acres. Taneycomo 111 fires 780 acres. West Plains 47 fires 769 acres.

State Senate Considers Fund Measure

CAIRO (A)—The Egyptian press today accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles of "creating trouble" in the Middle East over the question of Israeli test voyage through the Suez Canal.

Dulles told a news conference yesterday the United States would not oppose a move by Israel to send a test ship through the canal, would oppose any attempt "to settle the matter by force or acts of war," he said.

Al Shaab, which often reflects Egyptian government views, commented: "Thus Dulles begins to create trouble in the area."

The newspaper Al Ahran declared Dulles "is encouraging Israel to fish in troubled waters."

Rodick Tells Optimist Club Of His Trip

Vernon Rodick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell hotel at which time he told of attending the meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C.

Rodick stated that he thought the vice-president of the local Chamber should attend the meeting instead of the president because he felt he knew much more about how to prepare a program for the local Chamber than he did six months ago when he took office. He was accompanied by Jack Faber, executive manager of the local Chamber, and Rodick stated he thought it was vital that the executive manager should attend these meetings each year as well as other people in the Chamber of Commerce.

Among the many things he felt he profited from the meeting was the stand taken by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce against many things being done by the government, particularly excessive taxation. This, he pointed out, is preventing expansion. For example at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce a speaker told of a man who had a small business with 50 employees and when asked why he didn't expand said he was already in the 75 per cent bracket and he could expand to double. But he went on to say he would have to work harder, have to take a risk and then he would be in the 82 per cent bracket. If the government had made that only 50 per cent he would have expanded; as it was, it lost the taxes of 50 people he would have employed.

The high taxes, too, said Rodick, are keeping additional industries from being formed. People who have big money don't mind taking risks if they feel they will make a good profit from it, but when it is taken through taxes they might just as well safely invest in bonds.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Rodick said, has gone on record of proposing the lowering of the tax budget. It feels that federal aid to schools is one way. This is a state and local issue.

It also wants the Defense Department not to cut down on the defense but to cut the operating costs. It suggested, too, that Congress put the post office on a pay-as-you-go basis.

People lose incentive to do things because of the taxes, and we are all in politics whether we like it or not. The U.S. Chamber urged that businessmen write their Congressmen on things they felt should be done, Rodick said, because after all they are the representatives of the people. The letters should be short, Rodick said, definite but not demanding. The letters should be courteous and be written frequently during the year. Congressmen do not like form letters; they feel the pressure is being put on them.

If the businessmen and other people of the country allow the government to do anything it pleases, such as excessive taxation, Rodick said, we may find we, like other countries, have lost our freedom. We think it couldn't happen, but those countries thought so, too, 40 years ago, Rodick said.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. H. O. Wilbur, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. C. J. Blach, president, with invocation by Frank Mehl.

Group singing was led by Charles Hanna, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Aaron Smith was introduced as a guest.

Dr. Blach stated he had accepted the challenge in the milk- ing contest among presidents of the civic clubs on Dairy Day, June 1, although he was from the city and had never milked a cow in his life.

Rev. Sims Is Elected To Executive Council

Moisture and Cooler Air Seen for State

KANSAS CITY (A)—Missouri is in the path of more precipitation. Occasional showers and thunderstorms are forecast for tonight and Thursday with the possibility of some locally severe thunderstorms in the southwest this evening.

The long range forecast indicates there will be more precipitation about Saturday.

School Program

tion and music building proposed earlier will be omitted but other new construction and improvement at Smith-Cotton would remain principally the same as proposed in previous bond issues.

In submitting the estimates, it was noted by the architects that building costs have risen approximately 10 per cent since previous bond issues were voted on and a similar increase would be made by the time a building program could be started.

The program as set up by the architects calls for remodeling and additions to Jefferson School or a new building, additions and remodeling at Mark Twain, Washington, Whittier, Horace Mann, and a new building to be located in west Sedalia.

Cost of a new building in west Sedalia was estimated at $22,169 as compared to an estimate of $477,285 in previous bond issues.

A new building at Jefferson was estimated to cost $325,995.

The proposed new building for Jefferson would include eight classrooms, an auditorium-gymnasium and cafeteria. The new building on the west side would include 22 classrooms, an auditorium-gymnasium and a cafeteria.

Also approved by the board were repairs to stop settling of the building at Washington School. The building committee was authorized to call for bids to repair damage done to the building by settling, including tuckpointing and repair of the cornice on one side.

Regular monthly bids totaling $20,685.62 were approved.

C. F. Scotten, Donald Trueman, P. A. Sillers, William Weseloh and Fred Decker.

welcome signs had been put out for a big convention and now the next thing is planning for the Christmas parade.

John Snodgrass, director of transportation and traffic, announced that the city survey on parking was in its last phases and called on Jack Faber, who told a little of the recent meeting of the Highway 50 Association. Snodgrass also told of the Automobile Club meeting to be held in Jefferson City, to which several of the Chamber directors plan to go.

Mike Giokaris, director of the industrial development division, and Abe Silverman, chairman, told of some of the industries that they are working to bring to Sedalia and the progress they are making. It is necessary to work quietly on industrial prospects because other towns are also working and may gain information that would hurt Sedalia's chances. Thus, the division works constantly on every lead and contact prospects again and again, sending out information about the town and answering questions.

This is a division of the Chamber that is never idle, Giokaris said. The committee would be very grateful to all citizens of Sedalia to inform themselves on the assets of the town and other information that they might aid in bringing in industries, as industrial people looking for a location often first talk to sales people, service station attendants, waitresses and others to find out about the town. A good boost for the town may win an industry, he said.

Vernon Rodick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Jack Faber, executive manager, who recently returned from Washington, D.C., where they attended the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting, told many interesting things about the meeting.

"There are a lot of people at the top," Faber said, "doing things for us."

The meeting was presided over by Vernon Rodick and those present were: Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer; Jack Faber, executive manager; Virgil Corson, Jess Brown, Harry Nagel, Paul Hunnell, Cecil Owen, Wes Murphy, John Snodgrass, Mrs. Everett White, Mike Giokaris, William Gibson, and Keith Yount, directors, and Abe Silverman.

are judged earlier will later be milked. Contestants will draw for cows and two milkers will be in action at the same time. White uniforms, a milk stool and regulation milk pail with a partially covered top will be provided.

Two dairymen, Milo Homan and Cloyd Merk, have been named to obtain prizes for the two contests. They will also locate most of the equipment needed, as that listed above. It is planned that prizes will be presented by the Dairy Queen.

A ring will extend out from one end of the band shell in a large circle and back to the other end of the shell. It is planned to set rows of park benches outside this ring. Then folks who do not have room to sit can stand behind them.

Carl A. Johnson is chairman of the ring committee, with Ernest Schlobohm and Marvin Goodwin assisting.

A grounds committee has been set up to assist in keeping the ring and the area around the ice cream social picked up. J. W. Raines is in charge of the committee, with H. E. Logan, Elmer Rhine and several boys who are 4-H Junior Leaders assisting.

Another important committee will have charge of getting the cakes from Convention Hall, where they will be received Saturday afternoon, to the tables: Bob Welliver, chairman, Ralph Grimes, H. H. Nutt and several more 4-H Junior Leader boys.

The wives of the dairymen have a number of committees set up to receive and cut cakes and to get the cut cake on to the tables. Those committees have been notified and the personnel will be listed in another story soon.

Will Take 3 New Steps In A-Testing

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nevada. —Three important new steps in atomic testing will be taken in the series scheduled to open tomorrow.

But the possibility of rain or a cloud ceiling today posed a threat of postponement for the planned pre-dawn blast.

A comparatively small atomic device, described as one half of normal, will launch "the most extensive series of tests ever held in Nevada." It will be exploded from a tower.

Preblast briefing of newsmen by nuclear scientists and military experts disclosed these test plans:

1. The first air-to-air rocket with an atomic warhead will be fired.
2. The proposed infantry of the atomic age will be tested for the first time.
3. Pigs, the largest animals ever placed under an atomic test here, will be used.

The rocket will be fired late in the series, which is to end Sept. 1. It will be loosed from a manned aircraft, but there was no announcement of what, if any, target there will be.

The infantry maneuver, scheduled for Aug. 19, will involve three new concepts of ground warfare, based on a proposed new unit—the "battle group."

These concepts are: establishment of a defense against nuclear attacks, mobility by air and supply by air.

The battle group will build with its own forces and equipment, within 24 hours, a protection against an atomic weapon or missile of artillery size. Some 1,400 men from Ft. Lewis, Wash., will be used.

The supposed enemy weapon will be dropped in the middle of the fortifications with the test troops withdrawn to a distance of about 4,500 yards. The purpose will be to determine how their protective efforts stand up.

In the second phase, the battle group will take the offensive and will be moved by helicopters to occupy a strategic site.

The third phase will utilize helicopters to supply the entrenched force and to evacuate casualties.

Jurors Consider Finance Deals Of Magazine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Confidential magazine comes under further scrutiny today by a county grand jury conducting a criminal libel investigation.

The jurors, who went into the subject matter of the magazine yesterday with a dozen witnesses, including actress Maureen O'Hara and pianist Liberace, will explore its financial dealings today.

Miss O'Hara and Liberace, both subjects of Confidential articles, appeared voluntarily.

The red-haired actress branded the story about her "an outright lie" and said she felt it was her civic duty to testify. "I would like to see Confidential put out of business," she said.

Liberace similarly denounced the magazine and the article about him, and followed up his grand jury appearance by filing a 25-million-dollar libel suit.

The grand jury hearing is the result of a long investigation by the state attorney general and the Los Angeles district attorney. Officials conducting the investigation said they will seek criminal libel indictments.

Suspends Enlistment Of Pre-Draft Youths For 6-Months Period

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it has temporarily stopped — until July 1 — enlisting pre-draft age youths for six months' training.

Asst. Secretary of the Army Hugh Milton, who announced the suspension yesterday, said it would not apply to the National Guard, which also is accepting recruits for six months of training.

Milton said the move was necessary because of a recent rush of youths into the program. Some Army officials said the increase was due to an April 1 order reducing the ready reserve obligation of participants from 7½ to 3 years. Service in the reserve follows the six-month active duty training.

Joplin Residents Approve Bond Issue

JOPLIN (AP) — A $1,450,000 bond issue to improve the city's sewage system was approved in a special election yesterday 3,487 to 1,669.

The expansion, which calls for enlargement of two sewage treatment plants and extension of sewer mains, is to begin in the fall. All but two per cent of Joplin's land area then will have sewers.

Kenny Group Is Defeated In New Jersey

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — The political organization of John V. Kenny crumbled yesterday as a group of rebels within the Democratic party with personal grievances against "the boss" won control of city hall in a stunning election upset.

The defeat of the 65-year-old contractor was somewhat analogous to the licking he administered only eight years ago to the then entrenched organization of the late Frank Hague.

And the man who will probably be named mayor when the newly elected commissioners meet Tuesday to organize is State Sen. James F. Murray Jr., a 37-year-old lawyer to whom Kenny denied renomination to the Legislature because they disagreed over appointments.

Murray's unofficial vote was 63,072, highest among the 21 candidates and thus entitled by tradition to the mayoralty. Carried into office with him on the "Victory Ticket" were two Democratic colleagues and one Republican.

The fifth City Commission seat is in doubt.

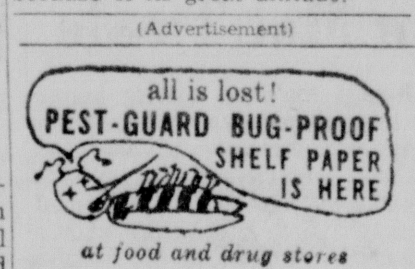

Kenny, who was not a candidate himself but was the focal point of attack by the "Victory Ticket," said in a statement: "I congratulate them and wish them well. For the benefit of all the citizens of our city, I hope everybody will work in harmony."

Kenny, for years a lieutenant of the late Frank Hague, made a deal with the Republicans in 1949 which helped him kick out the Hague organization. Kenny supported Republican Alfred E. Driscoll for governor in return for GOP support for his ticket.

Kenny quit the mayoralty in 1953 but retained the party leadership. Control of City Hall here—with its 61-million-dollar budget and some 7,000 jobs—means control of the Hudson County Democratic organization, the largest Democratic organization in the state.

State Senate Considers Fund Measure

CAIRO (A)—The Egyptian press today accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles of "creating trouble" in the Middle East over the question of Israeli test voyage through the Suez Canal.

Dulles told a news conference yesterday the United States would not oppose a move by Israel to send a test ship through the canal, would oppose any attempt "to settle the matter by force or acts of war," he said.

Al Shaab, which often reflects Egyptian government views, commented: "Thus Dulles begins to create trouble in the area."

The newspaper Al Ahram declared Dulles "is encouraging Israel to fish in troubled waters."

Rodick Tells Optimist Club Of His Trip

Vernon Rodick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell hotel at which time he told of attending the meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C.

Rodick stated that he thought the vice-president of the local Chamber should attend the meeting instead of the president because he felt he knew much more now about how to prepare a program for the local Chamber than he did six months ago when he took office. He was accompanied by Jack Faber, executive manager of the local Chamber, and Rodick stated he thought it was vital that the executive manager should attend these meetings each year as well as other people in the Chamber of Commerce.

Among the many things he felt he profited by from the meeting was the stand taken by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce against many things being done by the government, particularly excessive taxation. This, he pointed out, is preventing expansion. For example at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce a speaker told of a man who had a small business with 50 employees and when asked why he didn't expand said he was already in the 75 per cent bracket and he could expand to double. But he went on to say he would have to work harder, have to take a risk and then he would be in the 82 per cent bracket. If the government had made that only 50 per cent, he would have expanded; as it was, it lost the taxes of 50 people he would have employed.

The high taxes, too, said Rodick, are keeping additional industries from being formed. People who have big money don't mind taking risks if they feel they will make a good profit from it, but when it is taken through taxes they might just as well safely invest in bonds.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Rodick said, has gone on record of proposing the lowering of the tax budget. It feels that federal aid to schools is one way. This is a state and local issue.

It also wants the Defense Department not to cut down on the defense but to cut the operating costs. It suggested, too, that Congress put the post office on a pay-as-you-go basis.

People lose incentive to do things because of the taxes, and we are all in politics whether we like it or not. The U.S. Chamber urged that businessmen write their Congressmen on things they felt should be done, Rodick said, because after all they are the representatives of the people. The letters should be short, Rodick said, definite but not demanding. The letters should be courteous and be written frequently during the year. Congressmen do not like form letters; they feel the pressure is being put on them.

If the businessmen and other people of the country allow the government to do anything it pleases, such as excessive taxation, Rodick said, we may find we, like other countries, have lost our freedom. We think it couldn't happen, but those countries thought so, too, 40 years ago, Rodick said.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. H. O. Wilbur, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. C. J. Blaich, president, with invocation by Frank Mehl.

Group singing was led by Charles Hanna, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Aaron Smith was introduced as a guest.

Dr. Blaich stated he had accepted the challenge in the milk- ing contest among presidents of the civic clubs on Dairy Day, June 1, although he was from the city and had never milked a cow in his life.

tion and music building proposed earlier will be omitted but other new construction and improvement at Smith-Cotton would remain principally the same as proposed in previous bond issues.

In submitting the estimates, it was noted by the architects that building costs have risen approximately 10 per cent since previous bond issues were voted on and a similar increase would be made by the time a building program could be started.

The program as set up by the architects calls for remodeling and additions to Jefferson School or a new building, additions and remodeling at Mark Twain, Washington, Whittier, Horace Mann, and a new building to be located in west Sedalia.

Cost of a new building in west Sedalia was estimated at $322,169 as compared to an estimate of $477,285 in previous bond issues. A new building at Jefferson was estimated to cost $325,995.

The proposed new building for Jefferson would include eight classrooms, an auditorium-gymnasium and cafeteria. The new building on the west side would include 22 classrooms, an auditorium-gymnasium and a cafeteria.

Also approved by the board were repairs to stop settling of the building at Washington School. The building committee was authorized to call for bids to repair damage done to the building by settling, including tuckpointing and repair of the cornice on one side.

welcome signs had been put out for a big convention and now the next thing is planning for the Christmas parade.

John Snodgrass, director of transportation and traffic, announced that the city survey on parking was in its last phases and called on Jack Faber, who told a little of the recent meeting of the Highway 50 Association. Vernon Rodick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Jack Faber, executive manager, who recently returned from Washington, D.C., where they attended the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting, told many interesting things about the meeting.

The meeting was presided over by Vernon Rodick and those present were: Mrs. Ike L. are judged earlier will later be milked. Contestants will draw for cows and two milkers will be in action at the same time. White uniforms, a milk stool and regulation milk pail with a partially covered top will be provided.

Two dairymen, Mike Homan and Cloyd Merk, have been named to obtain prizes for the two contests. They will also locate most of the equipment needed, as that listed above. It is planned that prizes will be presented by the Dairy Queen.

A ring will extend out from one end of the band shell in a large circle and back to the other end of the shell. It is planned to set rows of park benches outside this ring. Then folks who do not have room to sit can stand behind them. Carl A. Johnson is chairman of the ring committee, with Ernest Scholobohm and Marvin Goodwin assisting.

A grounds committee has been set up to assist in keeping the ring and the area around the ice cream social picked up. J. W. Raines is in charge of the committee, with H. E. Logan, Elmer Rhine and several boys who are 4-H Junior Leaders assisting.

Another important committee will have charge of getting the cakes from Convention Hall, where they will be received Saturday afternoon, to the tables: Bob Welliver, chairman, Ralph Grimes, H. H. Nutt and several more 4-H Junior Leader boys.

The wives of the dairymen have a number of committees set up to receive and cut cakes and to get the cut cake on to the tables. Those committees have been notified and the personnel will be listed in another story soon.

Man Wounded

work in the grease rack room when the man walked in. "He stood there a few minutes," Hanning said, "and I asked him if he wanted anything. Then the man remarked, 'Come on, get in that green car,' while pointing a gun at me. The car was out in front and belonged to a customer who had left it to be serviced.

"As I walked outside I thought of my own gun, but knew I couldn't get it to then. Albert then spoke up and said 'Me too?' which put him between me and the gunman. I then broke and ran to the east side of the station and turned north to run up through the brush."

Hanning said. Continuing he said, "As I ran, he fired once, I recall, and started to chase me. I didn't know I could run so fast."

Davis, when asked what he did, replied, "Well, when Charles broke and ran I took off west toward Hudson's down the sidewalk. I heard the gun go off but don't know how many times."

Eck recounted he saw Davis running toward him and heard two more shots, the bullets whistling through the tree leaves and limbs.

"Then the man disappeared around the station," Eck said.

According to Officer Coutts, Martin apparently tried to shot himself. The trigger guard on the .22 caliber gun had been struck by a bullet. The gun was under the gunman's left arm. Officers Coutts and Knapp related.

Martin was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance where Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher rendered medical treatment. Dr. Stauffacher had an X-ray of Martin taken of the left chest and right knee. The chest X-ray revealed no broken bones, but the right knee cap had been shattered by the bullet from Coutts' police revolver. The bullet was lodged at the knee, and was removed by Dr. Stauffacher. The bullet that struck Martin in the chest apparently struck a rib a glancing blow and exited through the skin about three inches from where it entered.

Dr. Robert Stewart, radiologist, stated the knee cap was shattered but that there were no indications the rib which was struck had been damaged.

While Martin was being undressed at the hospital a bullet rolled out from under his left arm. It was the same type as the one loaded shell found in Martin's gun.

Officers Knapp and Coutts later returned to the scene. Next to the back of the building they found a hole in the ground from which they recovered the bullet which had struck Martin in the left chest. Checking the .22 gun they noted the trigger guard was broken loose and markings from it and the spent bullet found at the hospital were found to be identical.

While on the emergency table at the hospital Martin remarked to Officer Coutts, "If you hadn't shot me, I would have shot you. I've killed Japs and I killed a man in Missouri."

In reference to the man killed in Missouri, a check was made with Sheriff Bob White at Warsaw, who said he knew Martin. Sheriff White said Martin did kill a man, Harold Thurman, on July 19, 1954, south of Warsaw in an assault which Martin pleaded was in protection of his home. Martin was dismissed on a first degree murder charge in connection with the Thurman affair.

Sheriff White also said Martin was released on Feb. 25, 1957, after serving a six-months jail sentence for disturbance of the peace at Hastain, Mo., southeast of Warsaw. Sheriff White said the incident grew out of Martin wielding a knife and threatening several people.

The Sheriff also said the wounded man was a veteran of World War II and served with the Infantry in the Pacific for three years.

Martin gave two addresses, one on Route 1, Florence, Mo., where he lived with Charles Wickliffe, and the other as Fristoe, Mo., where he resided many years.

The officers later learned the guns belonged to Jim Kochoff, 3125 East 12th. According to the police, Kochoff picked Martin up in Warsaw and brought him to Sedalia, but at 16th and Ingram his car ran out of gasoline about noon Tuesday.

While Kochoff went to get some gasoline, Martin disappeared with his gear and took the two guns which Kochoff missed on his return. Kochoff drove to a service station and told the attendant he knew Martin and was going to Florence to get his guns. Kochoff was unaware of the shooting until his return and arrival at police headquarters. He identified the guns and signed a warrant for the arrest of Martin on a petit larceny charge.

The suitcase and other articles were taken over by Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and removed them from the Hudson station to police headquarters. Among the belongings was found a bottle still containing a small portion of wine.

Martin, when asked who he was and what he had done previously said, "Check the record." In his clothing was found a portion of a newspaper with large headlines referring to the shooting of a sheriff at Yellville, Ark., on which the police are checking. It is doubtful if he had any connection with this incident, according to officers, but a check is being made to ascertain if there might be a possible chance he may know something about it.

The man was detained in the hospital overnight and will probably be removed to the city jail today.

Will Take 3 New Steps In A-Testing

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nevada. —Three important new steps in atomic testing will be taken in the series scheduled to open tomorrow.

But the possibility of rain or a cloud ceiling today posed a threat of postponement for the planned predawn blast.

A comparatively small atomic device, described as one half of normal, will launch "the most extensive series of tests ever held in Nevada." It will be exploded from a tower.

Preblast briefing of newsmen by nuclear scientists and military experts disclosed these test plans:

1. The first air-to-air rocket with an atomic warhead will be fired.

2. The proposed infantry of the atomic age will be tested for the first time.

3. Pigs, the largest animals ever placed under an atomic test here, will be used.

The rocket will be fired late in the series, which is to end Sept. 1. It will be loosed from a manned aircraft, but there was no announcement of what, if any, target there will be.

The infantry maneuver, scheduled for Aug. 19, will involve three new concepts of ground warfare, based on a proposed new unit—the "battle group."

These concepts are: establishment of a defense against nuclear attacks, mobility by air and supply by air.

The battle group will build with its own forces and equipment, within 24 hours, a protection against an atomic weapon or missile of artillery size. Some 1,400 men from Ft. Lewis, Wash., will be used.

The supposed enemy weapon will be dropped in the middle of the fortifications with the test troops withdrawn to a distance of about 4,500 yards. The purpose will be to determine how their protective efforts stand up.

In the second phase, the battle group will take the offensive and will be moved by helicopters to occupy a strategic site.

The third phase will utilize helicopters to supply the entrenched force and to evacuate casualties.

Jurors Consider Finance Deals Of Magazine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Confidential magazine comes under further scrutiny today by a county grand jury conducting a criminal libel investigation.

The jurors, who went into the subject matter of the magazine yesterday with a dozen witnesses, including actress Maureen O'Hara and pianist Liberace, will explore its financial dealings today.

Miss O'Hara and Liberace, both subjects of Confidential articles, appeared voluntarily.

The red-haired actress branded the story about her "an outright lie" and said she felt it was her civic duty to testify. "I would like to see Confidential put out of business," she said.

Liberace similarly denounced the magazine and the article about him, and followed up his grand jury appearance by filing a 25-million-dollar libel suit.

The grand jury hearing is the result of a long investigation by the state attorney general and the Los Angeles district attorney. Officials conducting the investigation said they will seek criminal libel indictments.

Suspends Enlistment Of Pre-Draft Youths For 6-Months Period

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it has temporarily stopped — until July 1 — enlisting pre-draft age youths for six months' training.

Asst. Secretary of the Army Hugh Milton, who announced the suspension yesterday, said it would not apply to the National Guard, which also is accepting recruits for six months of training.

Milton said the move was necessary because of a recent rush of youths into the program. Some Army officials said the increase was due to an April 1 order reducing the ready reserve obligation of participants from 7½ to 3 years. Service in the reserve follows the six-month active duty training.

Joplin Residents Approve Bond Issue

JOPLIN (AP) — A $1,450,000 bond issue to improve the city's sewage system was approved in a special election yesterday 3,487 to 1,669.

The expansion, which calls for enlargement of two sewage treatment plants and extension of sewer mains, is to begin in the fall.

All but two per cent of Joplin's land area then will have sewers.

Kenny Group Is Defeated In New Jersey

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — The political organization of John V. Kenny crumbled yesterday as a group of rebels within the Democratic party with personal grievances against "the boss" won control of city hall in a stunning election upset.

The defeat of the 65-year-old contractor was somewhat analogous to the licking he administered only eight years ago to the then entrenched organization of the late Frank Hague.

And the man who will probably be named mayor when the newly elected commissioners meet Tuesday to organize is State Sen. James F. Murray Jr., a 37-year-old lawyer to whom Kenny denied renomination to the Legislature because they disagreed over appointments.

Murray's unofficial vote was 63,072, highest among the 21 candidates and thus entitled by tradition to the mayoralty. Carried into office with him on the "Victory Ticket" were two Democratic colleagues and one Republican.

The fifth City Commission seat is in doubt.

Kenny, who was not a candidate himself but was the focal point of attack by the "Victory Ticket," said in a statement: "I congratulate them and wish them well. For the benefit of all the citizens of our city, I hope everybody will work in harmony."

Kenny, for years a lieutenant of the late Frank Hague, made a deal with the Republicans in 1949 which helped him kick out the Hague organization. Kenny supported Republican Alfred E. Driscoll for governor in return for GOP support for his ticket. Kenny quit the mayoralty in 1953 but retained the party leadership.

Control of City Hall here—with its 61-million-dollar budget and some 7,000 jobs—means control of the Hudson County Democratic organization, the largest Democratic organization in the state.

Lou Boudreau
Not So Sure
Of Yank Win

By ED CRRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago, no one could persuade Lou Boudreau that the New York Yankees wouldn't win the American League pennant in a walk. He was right.

This year, the Kansas City manager isn't so sure.

"I don't think there will be any runaway this year," said Boudreau today, "because the league has improved more than the Yanks."

"We'll all be closing in on them a little. Actually, I'm not so sure the Yanks can beat out Chicago and Detroit."

When Boudreau gets on his favorite subject, the White Sox, he glows.

"In all my years in professional baseball," he said, "I've never seen such great team speed. Of the eight regulars, the only one who isn't fast is Sherman Lollar."

"The other seven will beat you taking an extra base on a hit. And all of them are capable of stealing. Defensively, they are real strong down the middle, where it counts the most."

He also likes the White Sox pitching staff and said he is just slightly less sold on the Tigers, who he thinks have solved their second and third base problems with Frank Bolling and Reno Bertoia. The Tigers also have a classic pitching staff, according to Boudreau.

He even thinks the Washington Senators have improved, though the standings don't show it. Boudreau emphasized he was not trying to knock the Yanks.

"I'd be the last to do that in my position," he laughed. "I'm merely trying to point out that they won't have things so easy this year. Right now, I'm worrying about what those three big guys (Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Moose Skowron) are going to do to me."

"The A's? Well, give me fifth or even sixth. It looks like we're getting our heads above water. I won't say we'll play .500 ball all year but I hope so."

9 Major League Clubs
Face Roster Reducing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nine of the 16 major league clubs today still faced the task of cutting down to the required 25-player limit as the midnight deadline neared.

Washington and Cleveland had the most trimming to do, each having to cut off three players to conform. Milwaukee was next with two over the limit. St. Louis, Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Boston and the two New York clubs were one over.

Two clubs, Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox, got down to the limit yesterday joining Detroit, Kansas City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cubs with no personnel problems.

Elephant Boy,
Etchison Meet
In Mat Tussle

Ronnie Etchison, soaring higher in the national pro wrestling ratings, will face one of his most difficult matchings in recent months when he meets the colorful Elephant Boy in Tuesday night's featured attraction in the Sedalia Armory.

It marks the first Sedalia appearance of the bushy haired wrestler from South Africa. Called "Elephant Boy" because of his love of the pachyderms, the copper-colored African has become the most fabulous ring personality to hit the Middle West in recent years.

Possessing exceptional agility, Elephant Boy is a cunning battler in the ring. He wrestles in a unique style, almost like the scuffling matches in the hinterlands of Tennessee and Kentucky.

Etchison, rated as the top contender for the heavyweight title, accepted Legion Matchmaker Gust Karras' offer to pit his mat skill against the crafty African.

According to advance publicity released on the background of the Elephant Boy, he hails from Cape Town on the tip of the African continent. He was reared in the jungles and associated himself with a tribe of African sun worshippers. It is the tribe's custom to grow tresses emulating the rays of the sun, hence Elephant Boy's mop of hair that sprouts from his cranium like wire and seems to grow from all parts of his head.

He's just about as ferocious in the ring and his frightening appearance. He's billed the "king of the jungle."

Etchison, in accepting the match, told Matchmaker Gust Karras that he will probably need to rely on speed to cope with his African mat rival. "I've never before seen Elephant Boy in action, although I've heard quite a bit about him," Ronnie commented. "I'll just need to model my offense to cope with any situation that may arise in Sedalia Tuesday."

The semi-windup looms as a slam dinger, too, for it brings Mighty Atlas, the Hollywood strong man, up against Thor Hagen, the flying Viking from Minneapolis. A matching between Atlas and Hagen has been brewing for several weeks and Karras landed this additional big event for the Armory.

More variety will be furnished Tuesday by the appearance of two new midweight mat wizards, Little Red Feather, a pink-sized Indian wrestling warrior, goes on the warpath against Utah's Brother Jay, a 43-inch Mormon from Salt Lake City.

The midgets have always remained popular attractions here and the debut of these two newest stars among the ranks of the mighty mites is certain to add more interest on what looms as one of the year's greatest wrestling extravaganzas for the Armory.

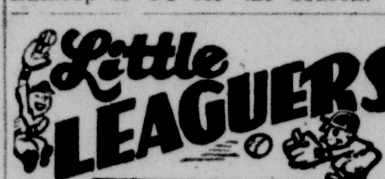

There will be no increase in admission prices for Tuesday's big mat card. Tickets are now on sale at the Midway Shoe Repair Shop and Pacific Cafe.

The matches Tuesday night will get under way at 8:15.

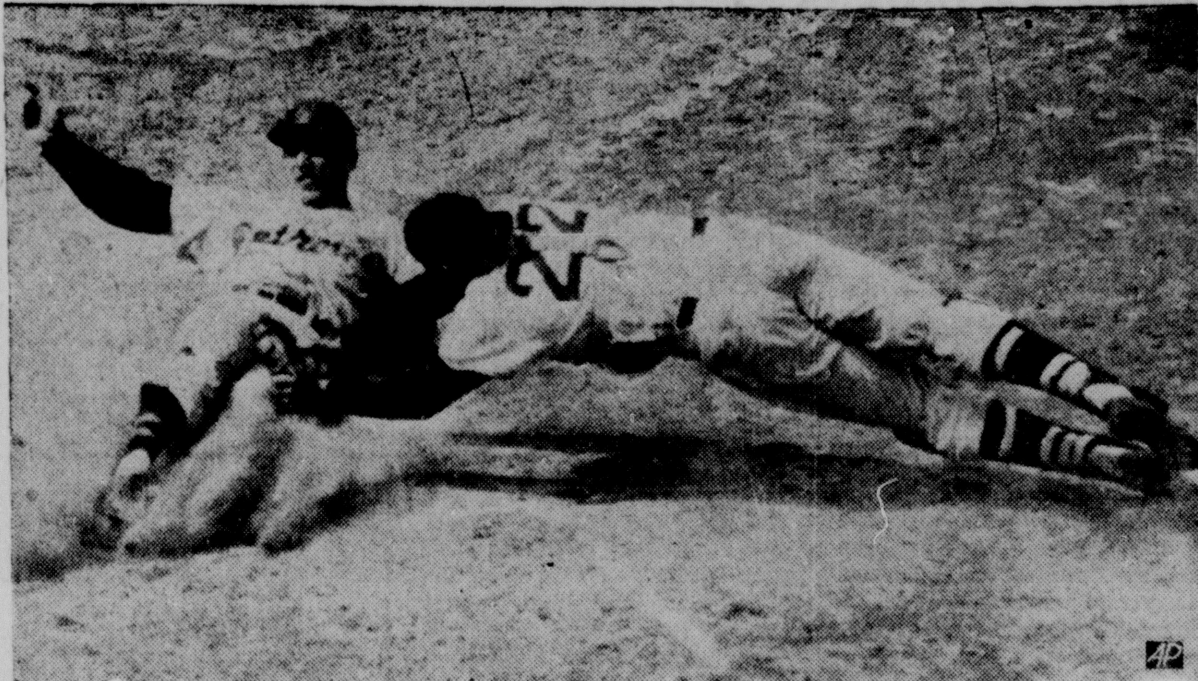

William Jewell Wins

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP)—Bud Lathrop scattered six hits yesterday to pace William Jewell to a 5-2 decision over Central College of Fayette in an MCAU baseball game.

It was the Cardinals' 12th victory against three defeats. Lathrop is 6-2 for the season.

The Jaycee Minor League "A" team will hold a practice session Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at Vermont Park. All players are to be present.

LONG STRETCH BUT SAFE—Rene Bertoia of Detroit is safe at the plate despite the long stretch by Sammy White, Boston catcher, in the second inning of their game at Boston. Bertoia came home on Bill Tuttle's fly to Jim Piersall in center field. (AP Wirephoto)

Cardinals Lose
To Giants 5-3
In First Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three unearned runs, Hank Sauer's bat and Willie Mays' fleet feet undid the St. Louis Cardinals and Vinegar Bend Mizell last night.

The New York Giants opened the first of a two-game series with a 5-3 victory against the Red Birds.

The Cards held a 2-1 lead going into the top of the fifth. With one out, Red Schoendienst, former Cardinal, doubled and went to third on a fly ball.

Mays dribbled a ground ball to third baseman Kenny Boyer who fumbled it and Schoendienst scored.

Mays stole second. He inched off that base and fled for third. Boyer dropped. Catcher Hal Smith's peg for error number two and Willie scooted to his feet and trotted across with the tie-breaking run.

Then Sauer, another ex-Cardinal, rifled a pitch into the left field bleachers for his second home run of the game. Ray Katt, still another ex-Cardinal, also banged a home run for the winners.

Ruben Gomez won his fifth for the Giants but he needed Al Worthington's help to end the game. Worthington got Don Blasingame and Al Dark on pop fouls. The A's were rained out in New York.

New Generation of 'Whiz Kids' May Help Phillies

The Associated Press

A new generation of "Whiz Kids" appears to have emerged upon the Philadelphia horizon. They promise to thrust the Phillies back into the National League spotlight after six years of frustration and disappointment.

Some of the original "Whiz Kids," like Richie Ashburn, Grady Hamner, Willie Jones, Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons are still on the scene but they've been forced into the background by such youngsters as Ed Bouchee, Harry Anderson, Bob Bowman, Jack Sanford, Don Cardwell and Dick Farrell.

This sextet has been largely responsible for the Phils' current streak, which has produced seven victories in the last 10 games.

Veteran observers can't recall when six rookies made good simultaneously on one club.

Three of the six were instrumental in Philadelphia's 10-8 victory over Cincinnati last night which snapped the Redlegs' 12-game winning streak and knocked them out of a first-place tie with Milwaukee. The victory also boosted the Phillies past Brooklyn into third place in the National League.

Anderson walloped a home run and single, drove in two runs and scored two. Bouchee also hit a home run and single, drove in two runs and scored one. Farrell, coming to the assistance of Cardwell after Cincinnati had gone ahead 5-4 in the fifth inning, retired five straight batters before bowing out for a pinch hitter to receive credit for his second victory.

The Braves took undisputed possession of first place with a 3-2 victory over the Dodgers. In other National League games the New York Giants defeated St. Louis 5-3 and Pittsburgh outslugged the Chicago Cubs 8-5.

In the only American League game played, Detroit shut out

Boston 2-0. The others were rained out. A pair of old Dodger killers—Joe Adcock and Bob Buhl—did it again to Brooklyn. Adcock's triple drove in one of Milwaukee's two runs off loser Don Newcombe in the first inning. Adcock carried over the second run himself on an infield single by Chuck Tanner. Billy Bruton drove in Milwaukee's final run with a sixth inning triple.

Buhl was the winner although he needed help from Ernie Johnson in the eighth. A three-run homer by pinch hitter Bob Thurman gave Cincinnati a temporary lead in the fifth but the Phils roared back with four runs in the seventh on four hits and added two more on Bouchee's ninth-inning homer to offset Cincinnati's desperate two-run bid in its half of the ninth.

Robin Roberts, fourth Philadelphia pitcher, had to come in to put out the fire. A pair of home runs by Hank Bauer, the second one coming in the fifth after Ken Boyer of St. Louis had opened the gates with a pair of errors, helped the Giants defeat the Cards.

Ruben Gomez viewed seven hits to register his fifth triumph but it took a sterling relief performance by Allen Worthington to clinch it. Frank Thomas banged a home run, two doubles and a single, drove in two runs and scored two as the Pirates downed Chicago. The victory went to Luis Arroyo.

Duke Maas, who los, all seven decisions with Detroit in 1956, gained his fifth victory against one defeat this season with a five-hitter over Boston. The Tigers made only five hits off loser Frank Sullivan and Ike Delock but two of them went to third baseman Reno Bertoia, who singled in the second inning.

In the only American League game played, Detroit shut out

FIND A BETTER
BOURBON
BUY IT!"

All we distill is Kentucky straight bourbon.

We know that bourbon of the finest quality requires choice grains. That's all we use. We know it calls for the greatest skill in distilling. The men who guide the making of Ancient Age are the most experienced in the industry. And it takes lots of time. That's why we wait six full years for careful aging to bring the quality ingredients to their peak of maturity.

And to safeguard the uniform quality of Ancient Age, we distill it at one place only . . . at the Ancient Age distillery in Frankfort, Kentucky . . . the heart of the bourbon country.

Nothing has been spared to make Ancient Age the greatest bourbon of them all. We invite you to try it tonight. After one taste, you'll understand why we can make the challenge: "If you can find a better bourbon . . . buy it!"

Philip Wylie Interview Was Unusual

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — That was a rare half-hour of television when Mike Wallace interviewed Philip Wylie on his ABC-TV Sunday evening program.

It was, to begin with, a good idea to select as the subject for Mother's Day Philip Wylie, that excellent American writer who 15 years ago belabored the most obnoxious form of mom in "Generation of Vipers."

Why Wylie was willing to go under the scorching lights is understandable. He's a courageous guy, ever willing to tilt a windmill when no knight in armor is around.

Why Wylie was willing to tackle Wylie is less understandable. Writers make difficult interviews. They're complex people, inclined to be diffuse. The better they are, the more complex they are — and Wylie is one of the best.

The best thing about it was hearing controversial opinions freely expressed on television without fear of the Madison Avenue Mafia. Here, for example, are some of Wylie's opinions:

The NBC-TV production of George M. Cohan's life, "Mr. Broadway," should have been entitled "The Four Cohans." Mickey Rooney's interpretation of Cohan's character was of a pompous young egotist who incidentally wrote some music.

The genius of Cohan never was probed. The dimensions of his life and times were scarcely hinted at. It was, to boot, a technically inferior production. Just how it could have happened with so much talent loosed upon it is the television mystery of this month of May.

Top Officers Of Teamsters Consult Meany

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Beck's fellow Teamsters officers go without him today to see AFL-CIO President George Meany on the giant trucking union's mounting corruption problems.

There was no advance indication the Teamsters chiefs intended to sue at the private conference for terms on how they might avoid a threatened ouster of their union from the AFL-CIO.

But Meany was expected to tell them that, if they want to stay in the AFL-CIO, Beck will have to step out as Teamsters president as an initial move toward a top-to-bottom Teamsters clean-up.

Head of the five-man Teamsters group seeing Meany is Elmer O. Mohn, the union's administrative vice president, long a close associate of Beck.

Others are Vice Presidents James R. Hoffa, Detroit, Thomas L. Hickey, New York, William A. Lee, Chicago, and Joseph Diviny, San Francisco.

Beck has been the main target of Senate racketeers, who have accused him of taking over $320,000 of his union's funds and using his official union position to get favors and personal money profits from employers and others.

Meany agreed to see the five-man delegation of Teamsters Union vice presidents only on the understanding that Beck's status as a suspended AFL-CIO vice president and Executive Council member would not be a subject for negotiation.

But it was hard to imagine how Meany and the Teamsters group could get very far in talking over Teamsters problems without coming head-on to the Beck problem.

Police Catch Monkey After Two Months

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—They finally caught Mike the monkey yesterday after he had been annoying North Philadelphia residents for two months.

Richard Gulons was eating breakfast when Mike came bounding in through an open window. Police were called. In the following chase the monkey knocked over crockery, started an automatic washer and opened the refrigerator. They finally trapped him in a kitchen cabinet.

No one knows who owns him.

France Shows Fastest, Slowest European Planes

MELUN-VILLAROCHE, France (AP)—France showed off Europe's fastest plane yesterday—so far as is known the Russians have nothing comparable—and the slowest plane in the world.

The French also showed a supersonic fighter which can do tricks at faster than 1,000 miles an hour, rocket engines, and the only guaranteed crash-proof helicopter in the world.

It was all part of a French aviation industry demonstration that it is booming and in a position to influence world affairs. The audience was a selected group of foreign correspondents brought to this hitherto secret airfield east of Paris.

The Trident, a jet which makes 1,500 miles an hour officially and considerably more actually, demonstrated over the field at supersonic speed. It is recognized as the fastest non-American plane west of the Iron Curtain. It is not as fast as the U. S. Bell experimental planes, but is considered better than anything the Russians have shown.

The slow plane, the Hurel-Dubois 34, is a photo-reconnaissance craft. It needs only 300 feet to take off and carries a glider-style wing so it cannot stall, its designers say. It can cruise at 50 miles an hour.

Claims Peronist Ring Has Been Smashed

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Police say a Peronist ring which has been setting off bombs in Buenos Aires has been smashed with the roundup of 12 men.

Chief Desiderio Fernandez Suarez told newsmen the gang hoped to stir up the population by planting bombs, distributing pamphlets and intimidating former Peronists who informed on followers of deposed President Juan D. Peron.

Bachelor Has Simple Formula For Success---Long Work Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—John Bentia, a 39-year-old bachelor who runs a 20-million-dollar-a-year business, has figured out a simple formula by which practically anyone can become successful in only 14 hours a day.

There's only one catch in it. You have to spend the 14 hours working.

"I feel strongly that a person of mediocre talent can, by determination and hard work, be more successful than a brilliant man with less drive," said Bentia.

"I've seen it happen time after time, and it's a simple matter of mathematics.

"If you work 12 hours a day and the other fellow works eight, every two days you gain a full day on him. The chances are that, even if he is a little smarter than you, he isn't smart enough to overcome the difference that your added hours on the job makes."

Bentia himself puts in 80 hours of work a week, and says he enjoys it.

The son of Romanian immigrants, he sold newspapers at the age of 15. He worked his way through college and then, in 1938, took a $135 a month job as stock boy with the Alliance Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Consolidated Electronics Corp., in Alliance, Ohio, his home town.

Four years ago he became president of the firm. Last week his steady climb up the ladder of success was recognized by the American Schools and Colleges Assn., which voted him an Honoratio Alger award. He is the youngest executive ever to receive the honor.

A pleasant-faced man with an easy manner that cloaks his own Spartan sense of self-discipline, Bentia says there never in history has been a time when it was easier for a man to get ahead — if he faces up to the price.

"There have never been more opportunities — and fewer people really looking for them," he observed dryly.

"But most people today seem afraid to stick their necks out. They are afraid to take a hammering, but it is only by taking the hammering that you can learn what you have to know.

"They lack confidence in themselves, yet this you must develop and hold on to. They prefer to look for a pleasant job with minimum risks and a safe pension."

The truth, as Bentia sees it, is that most people who say they want to be a success actually are afraid of success and the penalties it imposes. He makes no bones of the fact success does exact a penalty.

"You sometimes are lonely when you're not working," he admitted frankly. "You miss some of the pleasure of family life, and the enjoyment of hobbies. You don't play as good a game of golf.

"Socially, you find it difficult to engage in small talk because you don't have the time to learn the things that make small talk."

But is success worth the things a man loses along the way?

"Obviously, most men in their hearts don't think so," he said.

"I do, even though I know I have missed—so far—the happiness of family life."

But Bentia says being a bachelor isn't one of his career goals, and he expects to marry soon.

What attribute does he value most in a wife?

"Primarily understanding," he said, smiling. "From what the older boys tell me, it can cause a lot of trouble if you like to work long hours and your wife isn't sympathetic."

GOAL REACHED IN FOUR-YEAR SEARCH FOR COMBUSTION DEPOSIT CONTROL

This team of Standard Oil scientists prepared more than 500 compounds in a four-year search to solve new problems caused by combustion deposits in higher-compression engines. After more than 300 of the compounds were engine-tested, the resulting new chemical component was incorporated into the company's new 100 per cent science-fashioned gasoline. It prevents both surface ignition knock and spark plug fouling from normal carbon deposits.

Sorghums Are Good Crop In Drouth

By J. R. Fleetwood
MU Extension Field Crops Specialist

Corn makes a silage of superior feeding value but the sorghums are more productive, especially on poor soils and under drouth conditions. Last year, the tonnage of sorghum silage was slightly higher than the tonnage of corn silage.

Generally speaking, the sweet sorghums are more productive and make a better quality silage than the kafirs and milos. Atlas sorgo is the variety of sweet sorghum most commonly grown. It is highly productive but late in maturity and lodges badly in many situations.

Ellis and Axtell are about two weeks earlier than Atlas, are shorter, and stand much better. They will not yield as much as Atlas, but this decreased yield is not serious when compared to harvesting losses where lodging is serious.

Sorghums for silage should be planted about 10 days after the best time for planting corn in the community. They will respond to fertilizers much the same as corn. So, a soil test guided application of fertilizer as for a 100-bushel corn yield is in order.

For silage production, sorghum should be planted at a 10-12 pound per acre rate. The crop should be planted only deep enough to reach moisture and preferably not more than 1 1/2-2 inches at any time.

Pre-emergence spraying of sorghums is likely to damage stands and post-emergence sprays are not sanctioned under the Miller amendment to the Food and Drug Act. Therefore, chemical weed control in sorghums, especially for silage, seems to be out of the picture this year.

Since the sweet sorghums are high in juice content, they should be permitted to mature to a stiff dough stage, if possible. Earlier cutting resulting in high moisture content may result in low quality, highly acid, or low palatability silage.

Ex-Woman Doctor Leaves Prison After Six Years

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Nancy Campbell, 49, refusing to talk to newsmen, walked out of the New Mexico State Prison at dawn recently and hurried to a waiting car.

It was six years ago that Miss Campbell, then a prominent Santa Fe physician, kidnapped 9-year-old Linda Stamm for $20,000 ransom. She has served six years of a 10-to-15 year prison term, getting time off for good behavior.

Her head was covered with a scarf and she wore dark glasses as she entered the car of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Turley of Santa Fe who were waiting to take her to San Antonio, Tex.

Six years ago Linda Stamm testified at the trial that Miss Campbell took her from home to an abandoned, windowless ranch house south of Santa Fe.

The child was found unharmed 30 hours later in the kidnaper's yellow convertible, only a few feet from where officers captured Miss Campbell as she reached for the ransom.

Singer, With Many Failures, Suddenly Becomes a Success

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The people's choice for blonde of the Year seems to be Julie Wilson this season.

And a thousand show world comrades who know the years of struggle and failure that lie behind this tall, breezy Nebraska singer are almost as proud of her success as if it were their own.

No Cinderella she.

"You bump your head against every wall in the world," she mused. "You milk your own blood trying to create something new and fresh—and nothing works."

"Then suddenly everything you did that was wrong turns out to be right. You have what they're looking for, and you never are quite sure yourself what caused the change."

Julie, now a top-drawing supper club performer, making a record eighth appearance at the St. Regis. She is starred in two current movies, "The Strange One" and "This Could Be the Night."

Her fabulous 30-gown wardrobe is the envy of almost every other gal in show business. Her gowns cost from $850 to $2,000 each. She has four all-beaded gowns that took a year each to make.

But Julie, whose salary has climbed from $50 a week to $3,500, hasn't forgotten the days when a

Elevator Operator Charts Passengers' Weather Comments

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—What do people talk about in elevators? The weather, and it gets pretty boring, says Harry Scintia, Municipal Building elevator operator.

Nobody is original in their discourses on weather, he says. So recently he produced this chart of things people said in his elevator in one day and how many times it was said:

"Boy, it's hot."—14 times.
"Pretty warm"—11 times.
"We're sweating it out today."—2 times.
"Good day for the beach."—22 times.
"We sure need rain."—13 times.
"Hottest day of the year."—6 times.
"It's the humidity."—5 times.
"I can hardly breathe."—2 times.

run in her nylons was a major financial catastrophe. Those were the days when, as a stagestruck teen-ager from Omaha, she ran into more blind alleys than a mouse in a maze.

"I flopped at everything I tried," she recalled. "I was a Powers model, but I couldn't get any work. My hips were too big."

"I did all right in the chorus line, but when I tried to sing, they told me I couldn't. I landed a job with a band, and in two weeks they fired me. I made two film tests, flopped both."

"There were plenty of wolves around, including one in a toupee, who promised they could make me a Broadway or movie star overnight—if I'd let them pick the night. But I wanted to make my own way, or else throw it all over, marry and have 10 kids real quick before I changed my mind again."

Julie really did have a voice. She just didn't quite know then how to use it to put a song over. And in the process of learning she had to sing in some joints where she wouldn't be seen herself as a customer.

Her low point came during a three-month attack of laryngitis, which she now feels was largely psychological.

"It really only reflected my lack of confidence in my voice," she said. "But for weeks I couldn't even talk."

The turning point came in 1948 during a last trial—in her own mind—engagement at the Mocambo in Hollywood.

"Suddenly everything was right, and I still don't know why," she said. "But from that night on I never looked back."

She starred in London in "Kiss Me Kate" and "South Pacific," then won Broadway leads in "Kismet" and "The Pajama Game."

During her stay in London, Julie quit for a full year to study acting at the Royal Academy. Despite her present star status, she spends six to eight hours a day in singing, dancing and acting lessons.

"When you quit learning," she said, "you soon quit earning."

She says she doesn't know what to answer now when kids come to her and ask, "What should I do, Julie? Mama doesn't want me to go into show business."

Julie's speckled green eyes grew reflective.

"What can I tell them?" she

Tomato Plants Need Control for Cutworms

You had better be prepared to combat cutworms on your tomato plants, particularly if your tomato planting is near a lawn or other forms of sod. If you have only a few plants, the simplest and surest way of preventing cutworm damage is to use a wax paper collar around the stem of the plant. A 2 by 3 inch strip of wax paper is wrapped around the stem of the tomato plant so that half of the paper is below the soil level and half above.

For chemical control of cutworms, use one teaspoon of 25 per cent lindane wettable powder or two tablespoons of 25 per cent toxaphene emulsifiable concentrate in each gallon of water as plants are set out. Apply the insecticide solution to the surface of the soil after transplanting.

Membership, Profession

BPW Club Hears Two Talks Given at Regular Meeting

Two very interesting talks were made recently at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, one on "Your Profession" by Mrs. Frank Wagner and the other on "Membership" by Mrs. Marjorie Garansson.

Mrs. Wagner began her talk by quoting the great prophet, Kahel Gibrion, who said, "Work is love made visible."

She stated that the strength of a profession as opposed to a vocation is derived almost entirely from public recognition in that it has an extra economic interest in service to others. Unless your profession is backed by such acceptance, she pointed out, it is relatively insecure.

Mrs. Wagner went on to say that it behooves members of the Business and Professional Women's Club to aim high, both for the club and for themselves and to consider whether the objectives for which business and professional women are striving everywhere are worthwhile.

Fit yourself to assume real leadership in thinking on economic and civic problems with a view toward helping. It is the love of accomplishment, common sense and professional ability to carry out a directive well that backed the establishment of the BPWC Foundation, and the thinking and the events that have marked the Federation's course toward this foundation can be traced back as far as its archives in 1919, the date of the club's formation.

Mrs. Wagner told of a fund-raising plan that was conceived whereby "Two Bucks for a Brick" would permit every member to help buy the Foundation and feel she owned a bit of it. In the first 11 months of the drive, contributions totaled more than $220,000. Then on Oct. 31, 1956, the dream came true. Due to common sense, technical knowledge and professional ability of 170,000 members of this great body, the new headquarters for this Federation was started at Washington, D.C., therefore establishing the first women's organization to form, develop and incorporate a Foundation and research center.

To elevate the standards and promote the interest of women, she suggested that members analyze themselves. We know very little about the impressions we have made on people, she said. Do you have a smile that lights your face? Do you carry yourself erect? Are you naturally friendly and are difficult people a challenge? She stated that imagination, courtesy and an interest in others are important to happiness and success as a woman, a citizen and a Business and Professional woman.

Mrs. Garansson told of the importance to a woman to have a membership card in the Business and Professional Women's Club. She explained how the money from the membership was spent and stated that there are 188 members in the local club. The Sedalia club, she said, is one of 108 clubs in the state which has 6,000 members and of the 3,200 clubs in the National Federation which has nearly 170,000 members.

The Federation was first established in 1919, she said, at St. Louis. It is comprised of dedicated individuals, building for posterity, as well as prosperity, firm in the belief that every woman is dependent upon other women and that by mutual assistance and development of ideas, all women will benefit. The Federation doesn't need you, she stressed, you need the Federation, because it is the individual members who benefit. The Federation promotes the rights and privileges as a woman. In union there is strength, she said.

As BPWC members, Mrs. Garansson pointed out, there is an opportunity to develop community leadership in our own home town, in the state or nation. And the very purpose of the Federation helps members to seek out the opportunities for leadership, the problems our country faces, the chances for improvement in our contribution to community life, because through the BPW we can make our voices heard. Perhaps, she said, the greatest single reason for being a member of BPW is pride as a woman. The Federation is you and your activities magnified, she told the BPW members, so that all may see and hear and know that you are a part of a proud women's federation. We need the fellowship and the personal strength which the membership of the Federation can give individual-ly and collectively.

Civic Oration Contest Is Held At Washington

A Civic Oration Contest for pupils of the seventh grade at Washington School was held Wednesday, May 8, with each selecting their own subject, using "History-making Headlines" as the basis for the selection.

Joyce Ellis, who spoke on the subject: "New Hope for Heart Illness" was judged the winner of the contest. Second place winner was Mary Ann Zimmerschied.

Mrs. Nannie Sims, Mrs. Jessie Baker and Mrs. Betty Murrell judged the final contestants who were chosen from preliminary competition. Gold and silver trophies, suitably engraved, were presented to the winners by W. J. Parsons, representing the Modern Woodmen of America.

A permanent trophy, presented to the school, will be inscribed with the name of this year's winner, and may be used for similar contests for the next four years. Parsons thanked the Washington teachers for their cooperation and competent direction of the competition. Other competing students were also commended and invited to participate in next year's event.

Other high ranking contestants who received gold civic oration pins included Linda Hill, George Geotz, Leroy Roark, Carol Williams and Sandra Winebrenner.

The contest, supervised by Mr. Cain and Mrs. Hall, was sponsored by the Modern Woodmen of America, and was the tenth such competition held on a nation-wide basis.

'Come Home' Has Replaced 'Go Home' Slogan in Europe

Messages such as these in France were common as Communists strove to create animosity between European communities and the GI population.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Through the efforts of an amazing American woman, a new slogan, "Come Home With Us," is replacing the old "Yankee Go Home" in the hearts and minds of many Europeans.

In 1952 Miss Theresa Bonney of Syracuse, N. Y., founded a group called Friendship Chain. Thanks to this unique organization American GIs have spent approximately 10,000 days as guests of European families. Thousands of young GIs are being invited to visit homes to meet and learn about the people of the community near their depot or base.

The need for a better understanding between troops and civilians became apparent in 1951, when thousands of Americans were stationed throughout France under the NATO defense plan. The Communists had a definite reception program for U.S. troops, creating and building up antagonism between the population and the GIs. But no plan existed for friendly troop-community relations.

On recommendation of the American Embassy in Paris, the French government called on Miss Bonney to grapple with the problem. She had been an NEA Service correspondent during World War II, when she made an amazing collection of photographs of the effect of war on children. The pictures were published as a photographic document titled "Europe's Children," which mobilized world public opinion into a gigantic relief movement for children ravaged by war.

Miss Bonney gathered around her a group of French industrialists, technicians, factory workers and farmers who agreed to extend invitations to GIs to visit their homes. Today, thousands of links, forged by the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, form a chain of friendship that is bringing understanding out of former animosities.

To date, over 3,500 invitations from families in some 300 cities, towns and villages of France and in seven other countries have been extended to Americans from every state in the Union.

In many cases, the GI becomes an adopted son, finding a real "home away from home." Some GIs have traveled with their adopted families in England, Italy and Germany. The organization knows of three cases where a member of the "host" family has visited the GI's family in the States.

The Friendship Chain serves as a clearing house for invitations. It makes careful selections, matching backgrounds, education, interests and hobbies of hosts and guests.

Recently a GI school teacher visited a young French school teacher and took over his English class for a week. He is now incorporating the visit and his experiences into a master's thesis on French education.

Financial support for the "Chain" comes from many sources. Eleven top perfume manufacturers in France started it off with a $15,000 contribution. Since its founding in 1953 the organization has collected more than $170,000 from a variety of people—from prince to peasant. For one of their many Christmas programs, 50 Paris hotels donated 500 rooms for the use of American troops who had never before visited the capital.

During the Christmas operation in 1955, seven other Western European countries invited GIs to spend the holidays with them, and six other countries have announced groups such as Rotary, Patronat and Catholic Action are on record ready to work with the organization.

The French people are finding that the "Chain" has had a two-way effect. One Frenchman who has been host to 10 GIs said, "Thanks to the magnificent work of the Friendship Chain, the apathy, indifference, even hostility in our community has changed to friendliness."

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—In Akron it is against the law to desert "expectant female dogs."

This little used provision of the Municipal Code came to light recently when an Akron man, Howard L. White, moved to a nearby trailer camp.

Dog Warden Cornelius Yarnman charged White with animal desertion for failing to take with him his black fox terrier who, Yarnman said, "is an expectant female."

Miner Rescued After Long Burial Alive

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP)—"I could see the slate falling like big hunks of paper with black dust pouring up and I said, 'Lord, nobody can stop it but you. If you don't, I'm a goner.'"

That was William C. Richmond talking, telling how it feels to be buried alive for 74 hours in a cold, lightless coal mine of central West Virginia.

The 38-year-old coal miner, working on only his eighth shift when the accident happened, was weak with exhaustion but Dr. J. R. Glasscock said he was in excellent condition otherwise.

Richmond and four other miners were working in the Donegan Coal and Coke Co.'s Donegan mine about 18 miles from here

Wednesday night when a creaking noise warned of a roof fall. Four men ran toward the main entry and safety. Richmond didn't make it. Hundreds of tons of rock and slate thundered into a nine-foot area, blocking the entry.

Richmond was trapped between the face of the coal and the fall. Nobody knew it until Saturday night, when rescue workers heard sounds from behind the fall.

Richmond's wife and seven children came over from Rupert to visit him yesterday. His wife, expecting an eighth child, said: "If he was safe and sound, the Lord had a hand in it."

Richmond told newsmen: "The fall came right up to two feet from me and stopped. The wall started scooting in under me.

Pieces of rock kept pushing in beneath me and lifted me up until I just had a little hole about 20 inches high left to lie in.

"It was just about the size of the inside of a coffin, and I thought that was what it was going to be for me."

Richmond was without food, water or light until rescuers reached him early yesterday.

Moving Ahead On Parking

Concerning alleviation of parking problems Sedalia may consider itself much advanced over Jefferson City from several standpoints.

Nearing completion is a survey by personal interviews of motorists parking in the downtown shopping area which survey will become an important part of an analysis of information relating to necessity for and availability of most advantageous off-street parking lots.

Ultimately this data will be a guide for City Council in preparation of ordinances for establishment of off-street parking lots to be paid for from revenue bonds, given public approval.

Jefferson City's off street parking problem is still in the discussion stage although court approval was given last year for financing of off-street parking lots by revenue bonds. Sedalia prepared early to act in case of a favorable decision.

Commenting recently on the Capital City's problem, the Post-Tribune said: "Jefferson City urgently needs off-street parking lots or the economic loss in retail sales will grow to even more serious proportions."

Interesting, too, is comparison of number and collections of on-street parking meters of Sedalia and Jefferson City for 1956. Jefferson City had only 462 meters in operation, or 20 less than in 1947. They brought in receipts totalling $32,690 or an average of $70 income per meter.

During the same period Sedalia had in operation 770 on-street meters which produced $61,276.75 or $9.58 more per meter than Jefferson City collected. Furthermore Sedalia has two off-street parking lots with 65 meters which produced $3,499.50, to make Sedalia's total meter revenue $64,776.25.

Columbia with much larger population including colleges and university and student use of meters had 750 meters bringing in $67,000 or an average of $90 per meter. Making comparison with these figures Jefferson City senses the need for more nearly maximum coverage of on-street meters, and a study to determine how many more on-street meters can be utilized. Sedalia considered this problem long ago and extended its coverage.

Columbia recently was involved in dissension over the manner in which to provide off-street parking facilities, going through two elections to decide the issue. This slowed up the entire project although congestion is as unbearable over there, as it is in Jefferson City.

When the facts and figures are in for Sedalia's consideration of an election to approve revenue bond purchase of off-street parking lots it is hopefully anticipated the project will be presented in simplified and informative manner so our community won't have the backfire and delay now being experienced by Columbia.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Big Business and Guided Missiles

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—If you read the full text of the Colonel John Nickerson secret memo on guided missiles you can easily understand why his court martial has been postponed and why he may never be brought to trial.

The Defense Department has the same kind of a bear by the tail that Herbert Hoover had when he ordered the court martial of General Smedley Butler of the Marine Corps for criticizing Mussolini. The Butler court martial would have developed into a trial of Mussolini and was finally dropped.

Likewise, the court martial of Colonel Nickerson is certain to develop into a trial of Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson and his former firm, General Motors, together with Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles and his former firm, Bell Telephone.

What Nickerson does, in effect, is accuse them of favoring their own companies by putting guided missile development in the hands of the Air Force, plus General Motors, Bell Telephone, and Douglas Aircraft, at the same time boycotting the army which does business with General Motors' rival, Chrysler.

Colonel Nickerson also argued that lumping guided missile development under the Air Force in Southern California put too many defense plants in that key area as a target to Russian bombers.

Big Business vs. Government

The Nickerson memo, which came into my hands but was seized by the Defense Department when we did them the courtesy of asking for security guidance, contains these significant passages regarding the battle of big business to control development of the intermediate range missile—the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force's Thor:

"A. C. Sparkplug division of General Motors has the inertial guidance responsibility for Thor. The development of the Jupiter guidance system is done by ABMA (Army Ballistic Missile Agency) at Huntsville. Production of guidance components is by the Ford instrument division of Sperry-Rand."

"The Army radio-guidance system developed by JP (Jet Propulsion Laboratory of Army) is also superior to that being developed by the Bell Telephone laboratories for Thor."

There follows some technical information which I have censored for fear it might aid a potential enemy.

"Discontinuance of the Army missile" continues the secret memo, "will result in the concentration of the following programs in the Bell-Douglas combination—Nike I, Nike B, Nike II, IRBM (intermediate range ballistic missile of 1500 miles), and ICBM (intercontinental ballistic missile of 5,000 miles range). This is too much missile concentration in one combination. Should one add the Sage and Cesar programs at Bell and the Navy and Air Forces aircraft contracts at Douglas—the over-concentration is obviously serious.

"Furthermore, discontinuance of the Army IRBM would result in an even greater concentration of development in Southern California. This concentration is already the source of considerable worry from a defense standpoint. The southeastern United States, on the other hand, is strategically a sound location of a missile program.

"It should be noted that the aircraft industry and particularly the Douglas Aircraft company openly oppose the development of any missile by a government agency. High officials of the Douglas company have stated that Douglas is paying particular attention to the possibilities of killing off the operation at Huntsville, Alabama.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Idols originally were symbols to remind people of the Supreme Being who created the world. People are inclined to depend on their senses for comprehension and understanding. They could not see nor feel nor have God, but they could touch and see the symbolic idols.

Many worshippers transferred their worship to the idols and forgot the unseen God. We criticize these folk of old who worshiped man-fashioned bits of stone and wood. We call them heathens, idol worshippers and defilers of true religion.

Today there are many who put money, material possessions and heroes above the unseen God. They will do anything to possess material things or to receive the recognition of misguiding human leaders.

We need to clean out the temples of our souls. We must remove the idols which we worship from our lives, and find faith in the true Creator who is not material, not sensory, not limited. He alone is real and cannot be destroyed.

Looking Backward...

The Rev. G. A. Baldwin, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the baccalaureate address to the 197 Smith-Cotton High School graduates in the school auditorium. The commencement address was to be Thursday night, May 19 by Dr. Robert H. Ruff, president of Central College, Fayette.

1932 Jack Hale, Ft. Worth, Tex., arrived to spend his birthday anniversary with his mother, Mrs. Alice B. White.

1932 Judge Hopkins B. Shain arrived home from a campaign tour in the Kansas City district in his candidacy for nomination for judge of the Kansas City Court of Appeals.

1932 Employees of the Sedalia Bell telephone exchange had a banquet at the home of Mrs. Meyers in Smithton in honor of their new chief operator, Miss Lerne Yost.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Rev. H. E. Martin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church at Carthage, resigned there to accept the rectorship of Calvary Episcopal Church, Sedalia, to succeed the Rev. Henry E. Batcheller, who left for Chicago.

1917 Dr. F. B. Long, Sedalia, was elected a vice president of the Missouri Medical Society at its convention held in Springfield.

1917 Two hundred Kansas City Shriners of Ararat Temple, Kansas City, arrived on a special train over the Missouri Pacific with its famous patrol, band, chanters and a large amount of equipment that was used in a monster parade, the street pageant being followed by ceremonies that concluded with a ball in the evening.

1917 Don S. Lamm, attending Officers' Training Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., in communication to friends here stated it was "just like going to college."

Benson's Shy Farm Plan Is Mere Veto of Current One

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has now made what is probably the shyest, most subtle, soft-shoe approach to a brand new farm program on record.

There may be method in his manner. He isn't sticking his neck out on any new farm plan, probably because he doesn't want to have his neck cut off — say at the ankles.

In this, he apparently wants to escape the fate of his predecessor, Democratic Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

It will be recalled that in 1949 Brannan put forward what became known as the Brannan plan for righting what was wrong with US agriculture.

President Truman urged its passage in his 1950 State of the Union message. But the Brannan plan immediately became first priority duck on the rock for every Republican to heave dornicks at.

The GOP succeeded in knocking off the Brannan Plan. They also ruined Brannan's later political ambitions.

Anyway, Benson doesn't want anything like that to happen to him. So what he has done is write a long letter to Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee. In great over simplification it says that present farm programs and policies aren't working and they cost too much.

This could be the greatest understatement of the year.

The secretary includes both Democratic and Republican farm policies in this condemnation. He says the Democratic price support and acreage allotment programs do not cut farm production enough and do not raise farm income. He admits that the GOP surplus disposal and soil bank programs are the most expensive farm programs ever written — and that they don't do all they were supposed to do, either.

Benson says the correction of this situation should be taken up as an economic problem and not as a political issue. He offers to consult with Congress on new policies.

This Type Woman Generally Disrupts Any Family Life

No woman is a true homemaker who—

Is afraid to cover a chair or choose draperies for a room without consulting an "expert."

Won't let the children make a batch of cookies for fear of the mess they'll make in the kitchen.

Is never truly pleased to open her door to an unexpected guest.

In the name of tidiness throws out a child's treasurers and in the name of good taste refuses to let him adorn his room with the things that appeal to him at the moment.

Won't let her children own a pet of any kind because pets are "too much trouble."

Is far more concerned with how her house looks than whether or not it is comfortable.

Doesn't care where her own children are as long as they aren't under foot.

A Burden On Her Family Hates housework and wants to be sure her husband and children know it.

Can't get along with her neighbors.

Has no ambition to be a good cook.

Doesn't make her children's friends feel welcome.

Doesn't have a smile ready when she sends her family off in the morning and when she greets them at the end of the school and business day.

Discourages hobbies because they "clutter up the house."

Thinks of her home as a show place instead of a shelter.

Hates to see any member of the family ever being comfortably lazy and immediately thinks up a job for that person to do.

Best known species of the wading bird family is the sacred ibis, common in the Nile basin, where it was venerated by the ancient Egyptians.

Oil-Gas Crowd Rages At Proposed Amendments

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The oil-gas crowd is beside itself with rage at Ike. Industry spokesmen say he's again blocking approval of the gas bill they want.

After cautions behind the scenes maneuvering, oil-gas industry representatives unveiled their bill on Capitol Hill. It had congressional support. And, the industry assumed, administration support. At this point Charles Kendall, counsel for Ike's Office of Defense Mobilization, submitted for congressional consideration a series of modifying amendments. In the opinion of the industry, these amendments are all but crippling.

Last year the President vetoed a bill exempting natural gas from federal regulation at its source. Ike endorsed the intent of the legislation, but refused to ignore the smelly circumstances surrounding its passage.

Senator Francis Case (R-S.D.) had revealed that oil industry reps poured dollars into his campaign chest after checking his attitude. Case was a favorably disposed neutral until he learned of the donation. That turned him against. His revelation led to an unenthusiastic investigation of oil industry lobbying by a Senate committee.

The effort to free natural gas from federal regulation is of a magnitude and intensity that is positively awe inspiring. The reason is simple enough. Approval of the plan put forward by the industry will mean millions upon millions of dollars in additional profits.

General Nathan Twining of the Air Force, who is chairman designate of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, couldn't have a lower opinion of the Navy and doesn't hesitate to say so.

Recently, at a posh dinner here, Twining lit into the Navy with all jets burning. His denunciation was vigorous, sustained, and loud.

His naval counterpart, Admiral Arleigh Burke, was one setting away from Twining. The mystified Ambassador of Peru acted as buffer during the display. Just beyond "31-knot" Burke sat Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the JCS.

Radford didn't bat an eye. Neither did Burke. But he flushed deeply and obviously was furious. House Speaker Sam Rayburn was a witness to the extraordinary scene.

Twining's theme was that the Navy would do well to confine itself to submarines and abandon any pretensions of playing a global role of strategic significance. Twining made it clear that that was an Air Force job.

The oil-gas crowd isn't the only industrial aggregation that's sore at the administration. The public utility groups (electric power) are miffed, too.

President Ike and Treasury Secretary Humphrey favor curtailing the fast tax write off program sharply. This program permits some essential industries to charge off construction costs against taxes. Its effect is to lighten the tax burden of some industries. (The purpose was to provide incentives for expansion.)

Utility companies have benefited under the program. The group of companies which pooled resources to build huge power plants in the Ohio Valley was a beneficiary. Senator Harry Byrd (D-Va.) has criticized this concession. He also is critical of the concession granted Idaho Power and Light, one of the Northwest utilities involved in the Hell's Canyon dispute. Both Ike and Humphrey have indicated sympathy for Byrd's position.

But that's not all. The utilities are less than enthusiastic about the proposal to authorize the Tennessee Valley Authority to issue revenue bonds to finance the expansion of its power system.

President Ike has denounced

TVA as an example of "creeping socialism." He also has praised it highly, and has stated that it is a "historic fact" that he wouldn't think of eliminating.

Walter Sammis, president of the Ohio Edison Company, outlined the case against TVA revenue bonds this way: "To permit TVA to issue revenue bonds would inevitably result in the unleashing of tremendous additional amounts of subsidized electric power upon an industry already unfairly affected by TVA's operations."

Democrat Pick-ups

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

THE PUP HAD never bothered the wash on the line before—but that was the first time there had been a blanket on the clothesline. It was such fun to swing on the blanket and after awhile he was able to pull the whole thing down on the ground. That was fun, too, and he shook the end of the blanket, dragged it around and rolled on it. He hadn't had so much fun in all his short little life.

Then out came his owner and she was just as mad as she could be. She hadn't put that blanket on the line to play with at all. She picked it up and began to spank him with the end of the blanket and into the house he ran as hard as he could go — through the back door, through the kitchen and into the dining room he dashed, but something funny had happened to that dining room floor since he had been in there before. His feet slipped and away across the room he slid. He tried to get up on his feet but he kept falling down again. It sure is a funny feeling when you can't seem to keep on your feet for no good reason. The woman was after him and he just couldn't make his feet go—it was kinda like a bad dream, when somebody is after you and you can't seem to get away.

He could hear her coming, through the back door, through the kitchen — and then suddenly down she went blanket and all. Well, that was a relief. She couldn't stand up on the old floor either—she had completely forgotten that she had just waxed the floor just before she went out to get the blanket. And there she was, just furious at the pup that was so bewildered because he couldn't stand up. Before she could get up, however, he managed to slide back across the floor to the kitchen and bounded outside again. It is going to be a long time before he goes in that house again that has such a crazy kind of floor in the dining room—no siree—he is going to stay out in the yard—and he doesn't want to get mixed up with any old blankets, either. A pup sure has a tough time getting used to a new world and all the queer things the people in it do.—H.L.
